COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

The tax rate was established by the assessors last Monday night. The rate for 1967 will be 33 mills. The drop in rate is a result of the revaluation of the residential property which increased the valuation considerably.

We now have the snow blower that was authorized at the last special town meeting. As time permits the highway crew will adapt it to fit one of our vehicles. This should be of great help removing snow from the streets.

Joseph Smallwood has been hired as regular Night Officer with Walter Woodford as spare man.

BUREAU OF HEALTH RECOMMENDS FLU SHOTS

The U. S. Public Health Service has predicted an increased incidence of A type influenza during the 1967-1968 season in the Eastern part of the United States. This is a prediction based on the previous behavior of the disease and as yet, there is no evidence of increased activity of the disease.

AID PROGRAM LOOKING FOR SKILLED CIVILIAN WORKERS

Several "quiet warriors" were flown to Portland this week directly from South Vietnam to help the Agency for International Development interest highly skilled civilians to join their ranks in that unhappy country to help win "the only war we seek" in Vietnam—the struggle for economic, social and political development—an AID official announced.

Herbert F. Hodge, public affairs director for the Vietnam Bureau, said the 2-day recruitment campaign kickoff took place at a news conference Tuesday morning in the Portlander, 645 Congress Street, and the actual telephone interviewing of potential candidates will get underway in the greater Portland area on Saturday, September 23, with the aim of "hiring vocational education advisors, registered nurses, agricultural specialists, hospital administration advisors, personnel officers, construction engineers, public safety advisors, auditors, diesel plant operations and mechanics, and others who possess the skilled hands and skilled minds so necessary in helping the Vietnamese people resist communist aggression and build a foundation for lasting peace."

"With the help of dedicated talented Americans of all ages," Hodge continued, "we can continue to lend technical assistance in food production, industrial development, public health and education which will multiply the natural wealth of that underdeveloped country and bring great opportunity to its people."

Hodge emphasized that the Agency is looking for the work to help the people of Vietnam and help them get much more than they give. He said:

Interested applicants should call a general office and telephone number 225-0101 for a telephone interview either Saturday, September 23 or Sunday, September 24 from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. All out of town collect calls will be accepted.

15 CASES OF ANIMAL RABIES REPORTED IN MAINE SO FAR THIS YEAR

Since 1962 Maine has been experiencing increasingly large numbers of cases of animal rabies. Thus far this year 15 cases have been reported: 11 cases of dog, 1 cat, 1 raccoon and 1 sheep. From this data it is estimated that there will be more than 20 cases this year. The geographic location of the disease is principally in Oxford and Androscoggin Counties, with some cases reported in Androscoggin County. Rabies figures also indicate a large number of cases in the adjoining Canadian provinces as a continuous inflow from these areas can be expected.

The coming hunting season, during which the wooded areas can expect an influx of dogs and hunters, provides the ideal opportunity for transmission of the disease to dogs or man. It must be emphasized THERE IS NO TREATMENT FOR RABIES. The disease, once contracted, is almost always fatal. It is usually between 2 and 7 days before the victim dies. Even when a person is bitten or scratched by a rabid animal, the victim should be isolated from other people and the bite or scratch should be reported to the health officer.

Further, the victim should be taken to a hospital as soon as possible. The victim should not be allowed to leave the hospital until the health officer has been notified and the necessary precautions have been taken. The victim should not be allowed to leave the hospital until the health officer has been notified and the necessary precautions have been taken.

POTATO CLASSIFICATION CHANGE ANNOUNCED

Commissioner of Agriculture, Maynard C. Dolloff announced Sept. 20, the withdrawal of the "Cull" classification from Maine State potato grades.

The classification has been in use for one shipping season but, Dolloff said, "a public hearing was held at Presque Isle two weeks ago today (Sept. 20) and in the ten days following, which are allowed for filing written tes-timony, we did not receive one request for continuance.

"On the contrary," he said, "we did receive letters from individ-uals and organizations asking for withdrawal of the classification."

At the hearing on Sept. 6, the Maine Potato Council, principal industry organization, advocated the removal of the "Cull" classi-fication.

Letters asking withdrawal in-cluded, Dolloff said, one from the United Potato Producers of Maine, a growers' organization.

"We view the expressions from the industry as indicating a clear-cut intention to improve its competitive position in the mar-ket," Dolloff concluded.

Virginia E. Herriek Meetings are going to be held the second Tues-day in every month. Dues are to be in November.

Work has begun on the lot for the new Ledgeview Memorial Home for the sick and convales-cent which is located on Route 26 below Trap Corner.
